Tutoring Experience

Over the last 11 years, I have worked extensively with students across Singapore and internationally, teaching A-Level and IB Mathematics. My tutoring has ranged from GCSE and IGCSE Maths to AP Calculus, allowing me to guide learners in mastering complex mathematical concepts like calculus, algebra, and optimisation.

I have also mentored students preparing for competitive university admissions, ensuring they excel in mathematics and build strong problem-solving skills. Working with international and local curricula, I've tailored my approach to help students secure admission to prestigious universities globally.
